Per Graduated from The Clinical School in Cambridge in 1983 and after training in General and Plastic Surgery returned as a Consultant in 1996 with a special interest in Paediatric Plastic Surgery. The Unit that he is surgical lead for became one of 11 designated centres for Cleft Lip and Palate when the UK re-organised cleft care from 57 centres to enable the establishment of complete multidisciplinary teams and increase the volume of cases performed by individual surgeons. Per has worked nationally to establish a funding tariff for cleft care.

In contrast to working in the NHS, Per has been a volunteer surgeon for the charity “Operation Smile” since 2009 and has worked in India and Ethiopia. Latterly, focusing on Ethiopia, he has been helping to deliver Cleft Care and trying to establish a sustainable Cleft, Burns and Plastic Surgery service for a region centre on a University Hospital in southwest Ethiopia (Jimma) which has a catchment of 20 million people for whom there is currently no reconstructive service.
