

Addenbrooke's Cancer Patient Partnership Group

The group meets quarterly at Addenbrooke's Hospital. Their activities include:

- Consultation with people affected by cancer
- Ensuring that the patient's voice is heard
- Keeping up to date with cancer care developments
- Attending meetings as patient representatives

A few of the CPPG's recent / current projects include:

- Gathering patient views on the Ward D9 Day Room refurbishment
- Developing a new leaflet and written information for patients with an urgent referral
- Working with staff on the Oncology Outpatients refurbishment
- Feeding back on MyChart (patient portal which gives patients secure access to parts of their medical record)
- Participating in the Trust Reader Panel to improve patient information leaflets

The CPPG produces a bulletin 2-3 times per year. Click here for the latest copy. You can also read the previous bulletin here.

A copy of their annual report for 2018/19 can be found here.

The CPPG is always looking for new members to help improve cancer services. Members can be involved at a level of activity that suits them and can give their input via email, telephone or in person at meetings and workshops. For more information please contact:

Lenja Bell, Macmillan Co-Production Lead, (01223) 216842

Email: cppg@addenbrookes.nhs.uk